

Educational Opportunity: Primary Care Mental Health

The Section on Primary Care Mental Health is pleased to invite you to our fifth annual spring/summer educational series.

The sessions are informal and interactive with no set topic, allowing participants to learn from each other as we explore the challenges arising from delivering mental health care to our patients.

If you have a difficult case, or would like to help out your colleagues by sharing your clinical expertise, or just wonder what your colleagues are struggling with as clinicians, this series is a resource awaiting your discovery.

If you have just attended a conference, or acquired interesting ideas or skills through other educational offerings, this forum allows you to run this information through your colleagues with real world experience so that you can apply your newfound knowledge into your clinical practice.

Usually led by Dr. Harold Pupko or a member of the Section executive or education committee, the focus of the evening is on unleashing the collective wisdom within the room, in a relaxed, collegially supportive environment.

Each session is an independent entity, so you are welcome to join us for even one session.

These sessions are eligible for CCI credits from MDPAC when claimed as a discussion with a colleague.

You are asked to RSVP for EVERY session you attend prior to each session, at the latest by noon of the Monday preceding the session to drhappi@aol.com in order to be placed on the list provided to the security guard who monitors admission to the building.
